I do not see how an attorney staff could be awarded 1/3 of 6.2 Billion receiving 2.5 billion. They would have to work 24 hours a day 365 days a year for at least 10 years at present billing rate. This not fair for plaintiffs to suffer for years being taken by credit card companies and then have your right refund go to attorneys for their so gain to get rich. They deserve fair pay for their time, as has been paid by other Federal law suits ranging in the billions.

I think the court should investigate the proper billing of Law offices before this suit and come up with a fair pay for the attorneys.

Sincerely,

Allen Whisman
